About Me

Web Developer with 3 years of Experience Specializing in JavaScript, React, and TypeScript — Delivering Scalable and High-Performance Frontend Solutions

Experience

Freelancer

As a freelance web developer, I have successfully delivered a range of projects, from single-page web applications to complex web portals, utilizing JavaScript, React, and TypeScript. I have consistently provided clients with efficient, scalable solutions, while adapting quickly to their specific needs and project requirements.

Online tutor

Taught JavaScript and React at VITECH Academy, delivering comprehensive lessons to students of varying skill levels. Developed and led hands-on projects, helping students build real-world applications while deepening their understanding of modern web development concepts and best practices.
